WORKERS COMPENSATION REPORTING—COVID-19

Message for Employees:

Workers Compensation Board (WCB) requires employees who are eligible for WCB to report an injury when the employee believes to have contracted COVID-19 in the workplace.

WCB will determine if the employee contracted the virus as a result of an exposure arising out of and in the course of employment.

WCB does not provide coverage to workers when they are quarantined, self-isolating or sent home on a precautionary basis and are symptom free.

The process for reporting COVID-19 cases to WCB is the same as is currently done for all other workplace injury reporting to WCB.

For further information, please see the following WCB link.
